A Contribution To Canada

Out of the welter of charge and denial and appeals to racial and religious prejudice which characterized the recent Arm River by-election in Saskatchewan, the newspaper as-spawn from a special correspondent vividly impressed the writer of this column.

In the course of his journeyings around the constituency reporting the many meetings held, the staff correspondent of the paper in question had occasion to stop at the hotel in one of the smaller villages. The hotel was not of the usual type found in prairie villages. The rotunda he describes as "a tower of floral beauty," a close approach to a greenhouse. The ceiling was beautifully beamed and paneled, the proprietor having laid out five different plans for it before he felt satisfied. The hotel was scrupulously clean, the meals well cooked and nicely served by attractive help.

The correspondent was curious and he entered into conversation with the proprietor, one Kasper Haberlach by name. The secret of the beautiful woodwork was soon discovered in the fact that, in his youth, the proprietor had been a cabinet-maker and had a love for fine woods and the beauty of fine lines. His love for the beautiful also found expression in his flowers. Relating this story, Kasper Haberlach told how he came to Canada sixteen years ago, in his early manhood. Today he is the father to seven daughters and two sons, most of whom were born in Canada.

Proud as Kasper Haberlach is of his attractive hotel, it is his family in which he rejoices. Particularly is he proud of their school attainments. One of the Misses Haberlach led her school for three years in succession. The youngest girl, now aged seven, was sought by Chataqua promoters a couple of years ago because of her talents as an entertainer. Kasper Haberlach, himself, speaks six languages fluently, but, says the correspondent, "I think he is probably most proud of the fact that his children all speak English indistinguishable from any other Canadian children."

Mr. Haberlach has a praiseworthy method of insulating thrift in his family. His daughters help in the hotel. "It has always made it a rule," he said, "to pay my children wages daily for their help in the business, just as I would strangers. They are encouraged to save for education or business or whatever they desire."

Now what we find so encouraging in this whole story is that it seems to provide an answer to many good people who are greatly concerned over the subject of immigration. Here is a man from a foreign country, whose mother tongue is not English, but who, coming to Canada, brings with him an inborn sense of beauty, skilled craftsmanship, habits of thrift, high ideals of home-life and citizenship, and a keen realization of the value of education, a man anxious that his children shall have the best that life can offer, and determined that, to the full extent of his ability, they shall enjoy those privileges.

In this story from real life today, we also find a satisfactory answer for those who are inclined to question the efficiency of our schools and educational system, and their ability to perform the task of largely assimilating new comers from other lands into our common Canadian family.

The fact cannot but be realized and accepted that Kasper Haberlach brought with him to Canada something of far greater value to this country than money, and that the contribution he is making to the upbuilding of this Dominion is something more than, and far beyond, the mere making of money through the management of a well regulated hostelry for the comfort and convenience of the travelling public.

In the evolution and development of the Canadian people we require all the beauty, all the craftsmanship, all the talent, all the thrift, and the full recognition of the real things of life, that all the peoples of all the world can contribute. Canada does not desire to be a mere copy of any other nation or people, even though that nation and people be the best in the world today. Our ambition is loftier than that; as a Dominion our ambition is to rise still higher, and to develop on this northern half of the American continent a type of citizen superior to all that have preceded us, a citizen that shall be God-fearing, healthy, industrious and happy, reveling in all that is beautiful in art, music, literature and nature, and finding a real joy and contentment in seeing our work well done.

And to all who have a contribution to make in working out this pattern of a strong and ideal Canadian citizenship, this Dominion should extend a wholehearted welcome.

Paula—"Well, why are you so gloomy about it?"
Paul—"He advised me where to get the rest; but he didn't tell me where to get the change."

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tastes and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Sale Of Christmas Seals To Be Held This Year To Help Along the Good Work

The Manitoba Sanatorium at Ninette, Man., is launching again this year its sale of Christmas Seals. The Christmas seal fund last year made possible the purchase of a portable X-ray outfit, and, up to September 1st, financed the general expenses of twelve "missionary journeys" for the examination of people who had been in contact with tuberculosis, or who were suspected, or had symptoms. Three thousand people were examined, all known to be "contacts" or "suspects," a work very much worth while.

The 1928 seal money will be used to continue and extend this work and may also help with a very special work—to provide sanatorium care for children. The Province of Manitoba has not one bed especially provided for a tuberculosis child. There are children definitely ill, and children under par and infected who will soon be ill. To care for these sick children, to build up the almost-sick children into health and prevent their lapse into disease, is one of the best of all good works. Seals may help to do this. Prevention is better than cure, cheaper and more joyful in every way.

Christmas Seals are sold in sheets of 100 for $1.00; a seal for a cent. You can assist greatly in a most worthy cause by purchasing a sheet of these seals, and use them on all letters sent out during the Yuletide season. Those willing to help may obtain these seals by writing to the Manitoba Sanatorium, at Ninette, Man. Dr. David A. Stewart is the medical superintendent.

A GREAT PUZZLE TO CAREFUL PARENTS

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When the child falls ill with grating pains; is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what he has taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot get the sleep necessary to the growing child, the parent is in a quandary. What is to be done on such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the house. The puzzle is what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to meet such emergencies that Baby's Own Tablets were designed. These pleasant Little Tablets quickly reduce fever, break up colds, relieve constipation and indigestion and delay teething pains. They quiet the nerves and promote restful health-restoring sleep. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate babies.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

You doubtless depend on Aspirin to make short work of headaches, but remember that it's just as dependable an antidote for many other pains! Neuralgia? Many have found real relief in an Aspirin tablet. Or for toothache; an effective way to relieve it, and the one thing doctors are willing you should give a child—of any age. Whether to break up a cold, or relieve the serious pain from neuritis or deep-seated rheumatism, there's nothing quite like Aspirin. Just make certain it's genuine; it must have Bayer on the box and on every tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

Western Canada Airways Achieves Remarkable Record Transporting Freight In North

Announcement has been made that the Western Canada Airways Ltd., which have made The Pas the head office and principal base of operations during this summer, has under consideration the moving of headquarters from The Pas to Cranberry-Portage. This change has not been definitely made.

This company has achieved a remarkable record in aerial transportation during its first season. Hundreds of passengers and a large amount of freight has been transported over the north country without a mishap of any description and without the loss of a single pound of freight.

A notable example of the aerial work of the company was the journey of the superintendent, Major G. A. Thompson, from The Pas recently to Fort Churchill for passengers and return within the same day. Early in June after the steel had been laid on the Flin Flon railway to Cranberry-Portage and passengers and freight began to be delivered to that point, the airways company established a sub-base there and from that point the largest number of passengers and greatest tonnage of freight has been handled.

Besides trips to Chesterfield Inlet and Fort Churchill many chartered trips have been made with passengers from The Pas to many other points in the north, including Reindeer Lake, Fort Nelson and Lac la Ronge, but the principal freight business has been from Cranberry-Portage which base was established for the regular freighting business of the company.

During two weeks from the base at Cranberry-Portage nearly 5 tons of freight and approximately 150 passengers were transported to Cold Lake and return.

This great volume of business has been handled by three Fokker Universal planes, the largest one of which has a carrying capacity of 1,500 pounds and the others of 800 each. The successful operation of these planes has been due largely to the efficient pilots who are in the employ of the company. Those who are assisting Major Thompson are Roy Brown and Capt. H. H. Kenyon. It is estimated that they have carried during the season so far upwards of seven hundred passengers.

Operations will be suspended until after freeze-up, which is expected to be about the middle of November. During this suspension the planes will be brought to The Pas and overhauled and the pontoons removed and skis substituted. This will give the planes three hundred pounds additional carrying capacity.

Need Clean Books

The school children have no objections to frequent changes in textbooks. A book used by an older brother or sister is not nearly as fascinating to a child promoted to a higher grade as is the brand new book with stiff covers and pages spotlessly clean. And it is stimulating to start clean. We older folks don't take advantage of such an opportunity frequently enough. We keep right on and try to clean up the page that has been hopelessly spotted.

One Of World's Wonders

Curious Growth On Admiralty Island

On the north shore of Admiralty Island, lying between the mainland and Vancouver Island, the misty, water-laden fog from the Japan current has the effect of producing a growth of moss, declared by scientists to be one of the natural wonders of the northwest.

The cellular growth starts on the drooping boughs of hemlock and spruce and continues to grow perennially. Specimens of this moss twenty feet long and four feet wide at the point of contact with the branch have been found. These blanket-like growths of moss are so luxuriant and rank as to darken the forests along the shore of the island. Where spruce overhang the water moss keeps on growing after reaching the sea and extends many feet into the beach and tidewater.

Tourists viewing the island from steamers report this moss hanging in long blankets from forest trees gives the impression of many Indian wigwags erected among them.

Recent experiments with this kind of freely growing moss indicate that it has medicinal properties as does the swamp or sphagnum, widely used as surgical dressing in the world war.

Should Not Be Ignored

Common Cold Often Leads To More Serious Disease

A warning against ignoring the common cold has been issued by the medical officers of health for Toronto, Dr. C. J. O. Hastings. "The common cold and its complications," he says, "constitute the most costly and most fatal group of diseases that we have to contend with during the winter season. More than 70 per cent. of all absenteeism from our schools and colleges is due to sickness, and more than 25 per cent. of this is due to common cold and over 40 per cent. of all absence from school during the winter months is due to the respiratory diseases."

Minding one's own business is said to be a good method of developing the brain.

Making Good In Canada

British Immigrant Out Only Three Years Buys Half Section Of Land

Bad is more often heard of than Good, and in a similar manner one hears more often of the failure of the British immigrant and his family or the more recent British harvesters in their attempts to make good on the farms of the Western provinces. But every once in a while comes a tale of success.

William V. Evans came out from Hencod, South Wales, some three years ago with his young wife, to find work in the much-heralded Dominion of Canada, where, between snowfalls, golden wheat grew up and made everyone a millionaire in no time. Soon after their arrival the Evans found work on a farm. The work was new and very hard for a time, but they soon began to gain more experience and with this came confidence in themselves that enabled them to take on more responsible and more lucrative positions.

Now, three years after landing in Canada, Mr. Evans, still a young man with only 24 years behind him, has purchased a fully equipped half-section of land, together with several pure-bred head of stock. This farm is eight miles north of Horizon, and has the unique record of growing number one Northern wheat for eight years in succession.

Mr. Evans is sure that he "will make a go of it," and points with pride to his wife, who is a farmerette of farmerettes, with her ability to drive a six-horse combination or engage in the numerous duties of a farmer's wife. And then there is their little daughter, who "expresses the spirit of their new homeland in her bright, quick and cheery outlook on life."

Mr. Evans has already written to his home in Wales, where he has a number of relatives and friends he hopes to induce to come out to Saskatchewan, which he terms a land of the practical optimist.

Britain Buys Our Cheese

87 Per Cent. Of Exportable Surplus Last Year Was Shipped To United Kingdom

Eighty-seven per cent. of Canada's export of cheese last year was shipped to the United Kingdom—the amount being 119,000,000 pounds, according to Dr. J. A. Ruddick, dairy and cold storage commissioner for the Dominion, who recently returned from an extensive tour of the British market centres. The Canadian grading system had gained the confidence of the British importing trade, said Dr. Ruddick, and the largest operator in Canadian cheese on the other side told him that he never examined the cheese that he bought from Canada but depended entirely upon grade marks and the grader's certificate.

The following is a bishop's description of the kind of preaching sometimes addressed to fashionable congregations: "Brethren, unless you repent, in a measure, and be converted, as it were, you will, I regret to say, be damned to some extent."

AU REVOIR

From the cab of the truck transporting him to the airport "Bug" Bear walks "Au Revoir" to Canada as he leaves to take up residence in the United States. The gift of Mayor Houde of Montreal to Mayor Walker of New York, "Bug" was the first shipment to be handled by the Canadian Pacific over its newly inaugurated Montreal-New York Air Express service. Mayor Walker christened him "Bug" in honor of his 2800 "Bug", "buggy" well-known journalist of New York.

Negotiations carried on by the wheat pools of Western Canada for some months past in connection with the sampling of grain for government inspection have led to the installation of automatic samplers in the Saskatchewan wheat pool terminals number four, five, six, seven and eight at the Head of the Lakes.

After thorough testing of the automatic samplers by the pool inspection department, they were carefully checked over by the Dominion government inspection department, and the chief inspector has agreed to recognize samples taken by the automatic samplers as official samples taken at unloading.

Consequently a sample will now be retained at the Head of the Lakes, of all cars of Saskatchewan Pool grain unloaded at Saskatchewan Pool terminals, and these samples will be available for re-inspection purposes whenever required, or in the case of "held full" cars, so that growers who are not advised of Winnipeg grades promptly enough in the ordinary course of events to wire for re-inspection at "unload" before the car is actually unloaded, will now be protected by the retaining of samples of all pool cars for some time after unloading.

This improvement in the sampling system is a result of the work of the inter-provincial grading committee appointed some months ago as representative of the three wheat pools of Western Canada. The committee has under consideration various other matters looking toward the general improvement of the grading system from the point of view of the grower.

Beautifying Station Grounds

Great Interest Taken In Gardens Along Lines Of Canadian Pacific Railway

Interest in station gardens along the Canadian Pacific Railway this year has been greatly stimulated by an increased prize list, and the results have been exceptionally gratifying. G. A. B. Krook, chief horticulturalist, with the assistance of the superintendents, has just finished judging; the general excellence of the gardens making this a difficult task. In each of the four districts one general prize for the best kept garden has been awarded, two in each division for the old visible gardens, one for new visible garden, one for old and new invisible garden, and special mention made of those considered worthy. Fourteen prizes were awarded in the Manitoba District, with 15 specially mentioned; 12 prizes awarded in Saskatchewan District, 10 specially mentioned; 13 prizes in Alberta with one specially mentioned; and in British Columbia, 16 prizes with one specially mentioned.

The prizes for best garden went to W. A. Hooper, section foreman, Minnedosa, for the Manitoba District; to Chas. W. Chapin, locomotive watchman, Strathburg, for the Saskatchewan District; to D. Skarum, section foreman, Carstairs, in Alberta District; and to T. W. Bundy, agent at Erickson, in the British Columbia District.

Explanations and Comments

Obedience To Civil Authority is a Christian Duty, verses 1-7.—"Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?" was the burning question which the Pharisees brought to Jesus, and you recall how He answered, "Render unto Caesar, the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." A great part of the Jews were always questioning the lawfulness of paying taxes and of recognizing the authority of the Roman Government. The Jews of Rome had been especially turbulent, and of this Paul must have heard many accounts from Priscilla and Aquila, who had been forced to leave Rome on account of the trouble. In writing to the Romans, therefore, Paul was naturally led to take up the question of the Christian's relation to the civil authority.

"Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers—those in authority, the civil rulers, he counseled, and then by means of two instances, one negative and the other positive, he asserted that the fact of the authority being established argues that it was ordained of God.

The Roman Empire maintained law and order, protected life and property, and was on the whole, as Paul believed, a beneficent power. Nero, the reigning emperor, was a tyrant, a dissolute young man who often arbitrarily did as he pleased with the lives of his subjects, but at the time Paul was writing, persecution of the Christians had come from other Jews or from popular riots, and not from the Roman Government. At Paphos (Acts 13), Thessalonica (Acts 17), Corinth (Acts 18), and Jerusalem (Acts 19), Paul had found the Roman officials a restraining power to his persecutors. He was confident that after Paul had appealed to Rome and had been kept in confinement for some time without trial, he wrote Timothy, 1 Tim. 2:1-2: "I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men, for kings, and for all that are in high places, that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity."

"If our laws are not Christian then it is our business to make them Christian; if those in authority do not represent Christian ideals, we are not to deny authority, but to secure legislators and governors whose ideals are Christian. We are more fortunate than those to whom the apostle wrote; we have some say about the laws which are to be enacted and the officials who execute them."—Galen Glenn Atkins.

An Oil For All Men.—The sailor, the fisherman, the lumberman, the outdoor laborer, and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lameness and overcome rheumatism, it is excellent. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicine cabinets and be amongst those taken on a journey.

An Oil That Is Prized Everywhere.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the wants of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

Giant Guns For Naval Base

Constructed As Experiment During War But Never Used

Three giant guns constructed experimentally during the War have arrived at Singapore from England, to form part of the naval base's defense. They are 18-inch weapons, nearly sixty feet long, which weigh 150 tons each and fire a 3,333 lb. projectile. These three guns were the only ones of their kind constructed. They were mounted on naval units for use in bombarding German positions, but the war ended before they could be effectively employed.

WOULD SHIP MARITIME COAL BY BAY ROUTE

Winnipeg, Man.—Maritime provinces were considering the possibility that Maritime coal could be shipped to western Canadian points through Churchill on the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway, Hance J. Logan, K.C., of Amherst, N.S., newly appointed director of the Canadian National Railways, stated here.

Mr. Logan said that serious opposition to the Hudson's Bay Railway project had never developed in the Maritimes and there was a feeling which he shared that whatever might be the success of the route for grain shipments the development in mining and colonization which it would encourage, would justify its construction. It had been one of the fortunate aspects of railway construction in Canada that some development had always taken place to justify the work.

Those interested in shipping Maritime coal to Churchill believed that many grain boats would be going back to the Bay which could stop at Sydney, Cape Breton and take on loads of coal.

Mr. Logan said Canadian National officials would confer with the Canadian Pacific Railway with respect to the Peace River Railways as soon as Sir Henry Thornton returned from England. He was convinced, he said, that the Peace River District formed a very important part of Canada and he hoped the "negotiations would be successful." He had been asked about the likelihood of the C.N.R. joining the C.P.R. in the ownership of the Alberta Northern Lines. Sir Henry was expected back during the next two weeks.

New Elevator Opened

Members Of Prairie Wheat Pools Attend Ceremony At Port Arthur

Port Arthur, Ont.—Pool terminal elevator number seven, the world's largest single unit elevator, with a capacity of 1,200,000 bushels of grain, was officially opened in the presence of forty members and directors of the Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba wheat pools.

A. J. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd., officiated at the opening and with him were C. H. Burnell, president Manitoba Pool and L. D. Newbitt, representing the Alberta Pool. The elevator is owned and operated by the Saskatchewan Pool Elevators Ltd., headquartered at Regina. The building is 110 feet long, has 225 storage tanks, and 558 inter-space and outer space bins. The tanks are 125 feet high and the work house is 210. The work was done in the record time of 148 days from the time the first concrete was poured.

World's Record Cow

Saskatchewan Cow Holds World's Championship As Butter Fat Producer

Moose Jaw.—According to official figures received here a Saskatchewan cow now holds the world's championship as a butterfat producer.

She is Canary, Korman, Alcatraz, and is owned by Ben H. Thomson, Boham, who is famed throughout western Canada for his livestock records. During the official test period of 365 days the cow produced 1,080 pounds of butter fat, which is 106 pounds higher than any previous records.

Also during the official test period the champion cow produced 26,396 pounds of milk, which gave an average butter fat test of 4.04. The cows was milked three times a day, and was fed on feed grown at Braemar Farm, Boham.

Overcomes Gravity Force

Strange Claim Made In England By Young Scientist

London, Eng.—R. H. Tate, young scientist, claims to have overcome the laws of gravity, according to despatches recently from West Hartlepool to the Daily Express.

The experiment was demonstrated at a secret laboratory test, when a piece of metal—absolutely suspended to anything—was suspended in mid-air, the despatches said.

Tate placed on the floor the metal which was said to resemble aluminum but was of a composition heretofore unknown, and placed a similar piece of metal above it in the air. The top metal remained suspended—not for just a moment, but for as long as Tate left it there.

"I have eliminated the force of gravity," Tate said. "The metal is not insulated and it is thought that the practical possibilities of the discovery are apparent. I have discovered the new force from known forces, by eliminating gravity from the metal. The composition of the metal is known only to myself, but among its possibilities is the controlling of aircraft from the ground."

Experts said that, if true, the discovery would be the greatest in centuries.

Straits Clear Of Ice

No Ice Yet Reported To Be Seen On Hudson Straits

Ottawa, Ont.—No ice is reported in Hudson Straits, according to the latest radio message from the wireless stations there. A few icebergs and growlers have been seen, while there is a film of ice on the lake shore, but in the seaway proper, the ice has not yet appeared. The Canadian government seamer, Montcalm, with the party in charge of Major N. B. McLean, of Ottawa, is at present lying off Button Islands, at the extreme tip of Labrador. Major McLean will remain there until all navigation in the straits has been closed.

The string of wireless stations along the straits and on to Churchill, are in close touch with each other, and with the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries in Ottawa. Wireless developments have been added to by the establishment of a private station, at Mistake Island, 150 miles north of Fort Churchill, by the North American Mining Exploration Company, and another station has appeared at Baker Lake, in from Chesterfield Inlet.

Four Killed In Plane Crash

Tucson, Ariz.—Four youths are dead here following a crash when a Ryan Brougham monoplane plunged against the side of a mountain while in full flight. The crash occurred when the plane, soaring over the Catalina mountains in search of Bill Hyatt, 18, reported there, hit an air pocket. The ship caught fire after crashing and was demolished. Its occupants were burned to death.

Planning New Air Routes

Russia Wishes To Supplement Inadequate Railroad Service

Moscow.—More than 5,000 miles of new air lines will be opened in Soviet Russia next spring by the Soviet Air Transportation Company—"Dobrolet." The planning work is under way. The lines in every case are being laid out to supplement inadequate railroad service in the east and southeast.

Siberia, for the first time, will be connected with the European network of passenger and mail air routes, which now extend to Moscow. A daily service, 2,000 miles eastward to Irkutsk, near the Mongolian border, will be started in May in co-operation with the German Luft Hansa. With night flying, the distance will be covered in from 26 to 30 hours. It now takes five days by train.

Another air line will connect Alma Ata (where Leon Trotsky is in exile) with Novosibirsk over the route of the uncompleted Turkestan-Siberian railway. Several new lines are planned in the Volga Valley. German Junkers planes will be used up all the lines.

Federal Assistance Needed

Premier Tolmie Of B.C. Thinks Government Should Aid In Building Roads

Vancouver, B.C.—The Federal government should again initiate the policy in effect between 1919 and 1925 whereby the provinces could earn grants of assistance in building trunk roads, Premier S. F. Tolmie, said in the course of an address to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The Premier said it was time the Federal government recognized the trend of modern times and give assistance to the provinces in the matter of roads. The Dominion government, he remarked, through the post office and other departments was one of the biggest users of roads.

Holding Swine Club Tests

Winning Teams Will Go To Royal Winter Fair

Winnipeg, Man.—Preliminary arrangements have been completed by the Canadian National Railways for the interprovincial boys' and girls' swine club competition, which will be held on November 21, at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. Six provinces will be represented this year and the results of the provincial competitions will decide the teams which are to go to Toronto.

Teams from each province will be the guests of the National system during the week of the Royal Fair, and the entertainment of the boys and girls will include a trip to Niagara Falls and a visit to the Donalds Farms, just outside of Toronto.

In the past two years teams from Roland, Manitoba, have won and successfully defended the W. D. Robb Trophy, which is emblematic of interprovincial championship. The cup is held by the winning team for one year. Gold medals are presented to the winning team from each province.

Wheat Pool Makes Denial

Are Not Holding Up Wheat Shipments In Order To Raise Prices

Winnipeg, Man.—E. B. Ramsay, secretary of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, has denied charges that the Canadian Wheat Pool is 'holding up' shipments of wheat, and thus increasing the cost of flour and bread in England.

"Nobody in Canada is satisfied with the present level of wheat," declared Mr. Ramsay. However, we are not retarding shipments, but on the other hand, are not free sellers on the present price levels," he added.

From the point of view of the Canadian farmer, Mr. Ramsay continued, the prices are considered too low at present and "we find that the non-pool members are also of the same opinion." The non-pool members, he added, are storing their grain, awaiting acceptable prices.

Clean Law Administration

British Columbia Will Not Resort To Use Of "Stool Pigeons"

Victoria, B.C.—"Stool pigeons" must not be employed by British Columbia provincial police under a policy announced by Hon. F. H. Pooley, attorney-general.

"The police of this province are going to operate on a clean, above-board basis and the use of stool pigeons will never form a part of their methods," Mr. Pooley said, adding, "The police will never use agents to persuade persons to break the law in order to get convictions. Practices of that kind cannot be tolerated."

JOURNALISM OF TODAY IS OF A HIGH STANDARD

New York.—Frank B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press, told a group of representative industrialists here that newspapers as a whole were "worthy of the confidence of their readers."

Speaking at the fifth annual conference of major industries held at Columbia University, Mr. Noyes said he thought everyone familiar with journalism in the last fifty years would agree "that in accuracy of statement, in breadth of information, in official standards, there had been a steady progress upward."

Mr. Noyes, appearing as the representative of the publishing industry, said that the reports of newspapers and press associations did contain "many inaccuracies" since they were the products of human beings, but he gave assurance that "the intention is to fairly and accurately depict the situation described."

He defended modern journalism against forms of attack and criticism, which he said were unjust and unwarranted.

"As it is I am serenely conscious of the fact that we are doing our level best day in and day out, to keep in the middle of the road, having no partiality for any party and church, any economic theory or any cause or man whatever, and on the other hand no hostility to any of them."

"I know that this is true of the Associated Press, and I believe it is also true of the other large press associations."

"There have been venal newspaper men as there have been venal doctors, lawyers, business men and even venal politicians, but God be thanked that the newspaper crooks are few and far between."

Here and There

The new Canadian Pacific liner, "Duchess of York" has been launched at Clydebank, Scotland, by H. R. Royal Highness the Duchess of York. H. R. H. the Duke of York and other notables were present. The vessel is of 20,000 tonnage, and is the fourth and last of the "Duchess" quartette of steamships built for the service of the St. Lawrence route.

Two hundred Chinichilla rabbits accompanied by a ton of special food for their twelve thousand journey from England to New Zealand were recently handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company. The little animals were bred in Lincolnshire and are to serve as a nucleus of a rabbit farm in Auckland. As rabbits are regarded as a pest in the Antipodes special arrangements had to be made to allow them to enter the country.

George J. Javies, son of the Finance Minister of Czechoslovakia, is the latest addition to Alberta's list of notable farmers, led by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, whose E. P. ranch is only one royal demesne among several, including that of the Duke of Sutherland. Young Javies, who is only 22 years of age, has settled near Lethbridge, where he is gaining farm experience on the farms of C. R. Daniel before launching out for himself.

Thirty-five visits and departures of Canadian Pacific steamships will be made in and out of the Port of Saint John during the coming winter season, between December 1st and April 25th. It is officially announced. This represents an increase of three over the previous season. The two new "Duchess" class steamers, the "Duchess of Richmond" and the "Duchess of York" make their first appearance on the sailing list, the former being due in New Brunswick on March 23rd and the latter on March 30th.

The promotion of two of Canada's best known hoteliers to important posts in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been announced by the hotel department of the company. R. A. Neale, manager of the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, has been appointed manager of the new 120-room skyscraper hotel in Toronto, the Royal York, which will be opened to the public next summer. His place in the great hotelery at Quebec will be taken by John Johnston who has been assistant manager at the Chateau for some time.

The distribution of dividend money every three or six months to shareholders of industrial and commercial enterprises in Canada runs into many millions of dollars a year. The money goes to the country, many of whom depend on it for their living and it has much to do with the continued prosperity of Canada. About 88 companies are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange, a small part of the total number of those making regular dividend disbursements in Canada, but for the third quarter of this year these 88 companies distributed in dividends over twenty million dollars, of which the Canadian Pacific alone accounted for $7,500,000. This was by far the largest distribution by any one company, the next largest being $381,000. The number who regularly benefit by these distributions of profits is increasing every year, thus showing a more general tendency of the part of the Canadian to invest their earnings in the stock of well established and sound industrial concerns.

"Pretty near got 'im that time, Donnie!" cried Andy gleefully. "If you an get 'im to lift 'is jaw off 'is shoulder, send in your right!" Andy's hands were shaking with excitement, while Donald was cool and collected. "Let me go after him, Andy," he begged. "I can whip him at his own game."

"No, no!" admonished Andy, "keep on as you are. Don't try to swap punches with 'im!"

Garrieau's seconds were working over him feverishly. Pursell leaned over the heavily-breathing champion, his evil face sick with apprehension. "What'd I tell yer?" he exclaimed. "They've stuck a ringer in on us; dat feller ain't no amanoohor! If he beats ya we're both bums! Foul him dis round, for de—!" He finished with a savage oath.

At the beginning of the third round Garrieau charged his elusive adversary like a mad bull. Donald easily side-stepped him and he plunged into the ropes. As he rebounded, Donald landed a left and fanned assiduously away without reprisal.

"You can do pretty footwork," snarled the champion with a look of Simian ferocity, "but I'll get you, you—!" There followed a burst of wild cursing. He tried to rush Donald to the ropes, fainted for the wind, and let loose a powerful right for the jaw. Paying no attention to the faint, Donald ducked the blow and, countering, shot his left to his opponent's mid-section.

The champion grunted and fell into clinch, and hung on grimly. The referee tried them apart. Again the crowd came to their feet to shout in a frenzy of excitement.

Garrieau fell into a clinch, then wrestled about until he plied his opponent between himself and the referee. He loosed his right in a terrific upper-cut that missed, but his left smashed with fearful force to Donald's groin the most brutal foul that can be delivered. The referee did not see the blow.

Donald's nerves quivered, with agony. A wave of torment and the awful nausea that follows such a blow swept through him. His face whitening with anguish, his gloved hand clutching his groin, he crashed forward on his face. His body twitched for a moment, then lay still.

The crowd came to their feet and many moved toward the exits. Another victim, they thought, to the champion's terrible punch. A number at the ringside, who had witnessed the foul blow, stood upon their seats and screamed denunciations at the referee.

The referee stood with one hand on Garrieau's massive chest. The latter was lustily straining forward while the fatal seconds were tolled off.

The roar of the crowd came to Donald's ears like the dash of waves on a distant shore. At the count of five his body quivered. At the count of eight, his jaw sagging, his face distorted, he struggled to his knees. He saw Andy's agonized face as through a fog and heard his desperate cry of appeal.

"Up, Donnie! Up!" At the count of nine Donald's benumbed muscles answered the call of his brain. With tremendous effort he staggered to his feet and wound his arms about his face. The crowd yelled themselves hoarse in tribute to his courage.

Garrieau was upon him with a growl like a wild beast. Donald stood in the centre of the ring feeling drunk. Garrieau shot a terrible right for Donald's wind that struck his weakly protecting elbows. The impact carried him to the ropes, and he fell forward to his knees. Again the referee's arm rose and fell as he counted the seconds. Again Donald's right to his feet to meet a fusillade of short-arm jabs that pierced his guard and sent him staggering.

The gong rang. With body swaying unsteadily and legs wavering, Donald walked to his corner and sank down heavily. What a blessed relief to lie and relax! His head felt leaden and there was a ringing in his ears.

His seconds worked over him in furious haste. Andy knew all the tricks of resuscitation: the upward sweep of hand on the midriff that brings the big nerve centre to life; the quick raising of the chest that brings air to the remote corners of the lungs. With a sudden choking in his throat, the little Australian realized that this boy was very dead to him. A prayer on his lips, his hands trembling, but sure and deft, he strove to restore the shattered nerves.

The colour came slowly to Donald's cheeks and the haze cleared from his eyes. Cold water was showered upon him. He felt his strength returning. A long deep breath and he was himself again. He looked across the ring at Garrieau, whose vulgure-like manager was leaning over him with contemptuous look on his face. This brute had deliberately fouled him. A cold and terrible rage swept through every fibre of Donald's being. He had demeaned himself by entering the prize ring. This was bad enough; but to lose the right to the prize ring looked for his friends. Their faces, he saw, were tense and full of misery.

"Andy, I'm going after him," he declared in a hard voice.

Andy was about to remonstrate, but he caught a flash of the hard light in Donald's eyes, and the words died on his lips. He hesitated. Maybe he should have let Donald take the aggressive from the start.

"Are you strong enough, Donnie?" Donald's eyes held a dull glow. "Yes!" he gritted.

Andy patted his arm as the gong rang. "Give 'im 'ell, Donnie!" And then added reverently: "May God give 'im strength!" Donald shot from his corner as though thrown from a catapult to meet Garrieau before he was fairly out of his chair. The spectators held their breath. Was this the man who a minute before had walked away from the ring to his chair? When the referee tried the fighters apart after a fierce mix-up in the champion's corner, a puffed eye and a bloody face showed that Garrieau had absorbed severe punishment from summer complaint. The referee, for a fierce rally and out dance, always without a return.

The arena fairly rocked to the cheers of the crowd as Donald stood in the centre of the ring and exchanged punches with the champion. Head to head they stood while Donald's arms worked with such lightning speed that the champion's blows were smothered. And, marvel or marvel, the champion was giving ground. The pursued had become pursuer. The tide had turned. With his arms wound about his face the champion retreated. As he essayed a lead, Donald's fist smote his face before he could gain cover up. Following relentlessly, Donald penetrated his opponent's guard with right and lefts until the champion's face was a mass of red.

A bedlam of sound came from the audience as they stood on their seats and roared their admiration for the challenger's wonderful exhibition. Andy, his face set, his eyes bulging clung to the corner of the ring.

Garrieau drove heavily at his elusive foe and missed. The impetus swung him to one side. For an instant his chin was without the protecting shelter of his shoulder. With a bewilderingly swift move Donald stepped forward, pivoted on his toes, and with the full weight of his powerful young body behind it, he whiplashed his right to the champion's unprotected jaw. Pop! Garrieau fell upon his face and sprawled like a baboon on the floor. Donald walked to his corner, thrust his gloved hands towards Andy, who stood as though paralyzed, and said: "Take them off, Andy!" His voice was audible throughout the arena. The referee rushed to Donald's side and raised his arm aloft in token of victory.

With a roar the crowd came to its senses to realize that the fight was over. Pandemonium broke loose. "A struggling mass of humanity surged into the ring. Every man wanted to shake hands with the new champion. Garrieau, the possessor of the punch that he so much admired, was forgotten. The king is dead—long live the king! Such is life, especially in the boxing game!"

CHAPTER V.

With much difficulty Donald and his friends forced their way through the cheering throng to the dressing room. Weak and tired, Donald lay on a cot, while his handlers gently massaged his sore body. Andy moved to the cot and stood looking down on his protégé.

Donald opened his eyes. "Hello, Andy," he smiled weakly.

"Hello, Donnie!" said Andy huskily, as he patted Donald's dark head.

Donald's hand stole out to meet the warm clasp of his friend.

"Some little fight," said Andy, summing up a smile.

"Not bad," agreed Donald. Gillis pulled his hat brim down over his eyes to hide his emotion. "I've a good mind to go out and give that brute another licking," he growled.

One of the promoters thrust his

SUMMER COMPLAINT

Nearly Lost Her Little Girl

Mrs. Theodore Rivett, Anthony, Ont., writes:—"Last Fall I nearly lost my little girl as she was suffering terribly from summer complaint. She became very ill and weak; had no appetite, and could hardly walk across the room without falling down. At last my mother advised me to get a bottle of and after she had taken a few doses she was relieved.

I also found it a grand remedy for summer, and would not be without a bottle of it in the house for anything.

head through the door. "Come and get your dough!" he shouted.

"Strike me lucky!" returned Andy, "those words 'ave a pleasant sound. He picked up a small handbag and left the room. In a few moments he returned, his face beaming. He tapped the satchel. "Chuck, full," he said happily.

At the gymnasium they gathered in Andy's room, and for the first time Donald told them of the attempted "frame-up" proposed by Garrieau's manager. Douglas strode across the room and gripped Donald's hand. "Not a word was uttered by anyone, but the silence was more eloquent than speech."

They were all in a happy mood after the prolonged strain of the day. Andy was in particularly high spirits. "Gentlemen," he began grandiloquently, "I 'ave before me on the table 'ere a most wonderful little 'andbag. All it 'ad in it this morning was a dirty collar and a shirt stud. Now," making a dramatic gesture, "it's the bloomin' 'orn of plenty!" He turned the satchel upside down and a mass of bills, coins and cheques fell upon the table.

"Ere, Gillis," cried Andy, as he selected a bill, "will you go out and get some champagne, and when you goes in the bar buy a drink for the house. Bring ginger ale for Donnie; 'is manager'll drink 'is share of the wine."

Andy sorted the money into piles and quietly counted for a few minutes. "Fifteen thousand and a few odd dollars," he announced.

"What!" ejaculated Donald. He was astounded. He had given the size of the purse little thought. "I had no idea it would be so much," he said in a surprised tone.

"Oh, the boxin' 'gyme is a great 'gyme," said Andy.

"Yes," remarked Douglas, "but after seeing that bout today I'm going to take up tiddlywinks instead; it's not so rough."

When the big man returned with the wine Donald turned to Douglas. "It seems that you and Gillis are old friends."

"Why, yes, Jack's been one of Dav's right-hand men for—how long, Jack?"

"About ten years," replied Gillis.

"And I'm equally interested to know how you and Jack know each other so well," said Douglas curiously.

"I met Donald on the train comin' out," answered Gillis quickly.

"Come on, boys," cried Andy, "we'll drink to the new champion—to Donald's health." Andy held his glass aloft. "Boys, I can't make much of a speech, as I 'ave only 'ad one drink. Stand up while we drink to our Donnie, 'I know that 'e's goin' to leave me, and that 'e's goin' to give up the boxin' 'gyme. I know that 'e's goin' to 'ave the 'abit of minin' with the likes o' me. I know that I'm lucky to be blackin' the boots o' a man like 'im. But when I know that 'e's went into this fight to 'elp a poor little bloke like me out of an 'ole, I'm your boy. I'm proud I've seen many a fight, and I've seen many a gyne man. But strike me blind if Donnie didn't this day teach me something about sheer grit. When 'e came stumblin' to me at the end of that—third round—I—!" He stopped.

"You know what 'appened," he continued in a husky voice. "I ask nothin' better'n to 'ave 'im for me pal. Ere's to the gymest man that ever stepped in shoe-leather!"

"You mean I'm turnin' away quickly to light a cigarette. His eyes were moist. The room was silent.

Donald was deeply moved by his little friend's show of feeling. Douglas broke the silence. "You go back to the Coast just in time, Jack."

"How's that?"

"Dad has started on the biggest job that he's tackled yet."

"What is it?"

"Do you remember the big tract of timber that I bought in the Cheakamus Valley?"

"Yes, he bought on 'my advice," answered Gillis.

"Well, he's going to run a railroad in and build sawmills, and saw the logs right on the spot instead of shipping them to the Coast."

"Good!" said Gillis heartily.

"That's a wonderful stand of timber in that valley."

"But here's the best part of it," Douglas went on eagerly. "Dad's going to send you in to cruise the timber around Summit Lake, and I'm to go with you. It's a wonderful country. I was up there last summer. He turned to Donald. "Will you go with us?"

"I'll be glad to," assented Donald. "Good!" cried Douglas. "It will be fine camping with you and Jack."

Little Andy sat patiently listening to this lively conversation, in which he had been completely ignored. He could contain himself no longer.

"I s'y," he blurted, "am I such a blinkin' dwarf that you've forgotten that I'm in this 'ere crowd? I'm me 'and above the table? Where 'e'll do I get off on this 'ere bloomin' picnic, I asks you?"

One look into the Australian's seriously comic face with his heavy blond eyebrows wagging up and down set Douglas into paroxysms of laughter. "Andy," he declared, "I'm going to take you along, even if I have to mark you 'excess baggage. Can you cook?"

What Will you do

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million houses are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night restless and very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young children; and yet the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready to help. It is used in hospitals, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby has troubles, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

The Golden Spike Fire Case.

At last week's Court, before Magistrate Williams, the case against Louie Heichen Sr., charged under the Prairie Fires Ordinance with letting a fire run off his land, took up the time of the Court for practically the whole afternoon.

A number of witnesses for the prosecution were examined, most of these requiring the services of an interpreter; this process making the proceedings rather tedious. Mr Gustav Schuster of Golden Spike performed the duties of interpreter in a satisfactory manner.

Shortly after 6 p.m. the case was adjourned for two weeks, it coming up again on Tuesday next, Nov. 6. P. G. Thomson, Q. C., for the defence.

Duffield Doings.

The October meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs Coats, with a good attendance. Mrs Denuil read a very interesting paper. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames Lent and Taylor, served lunch at the close of business.

Rounding Up the Speeders

The town policeman at Leduc has been staging a campaign against motorists who break the town's speed laws. Magistrate Williams reports that about forty cases of this nature came before him recently, among the victims being a motorist from this town who was on his way to Leduc. It has been noticed that practically all who have appeared in the local Court for breaches of the V. & H. T. act are travelers from the City who are no doubt acquainted with the provisions of the Act, but don't seem to be able to comply with these when away from their own burg.
